8:30- 9:30am      Economic Shockwaves: Challenges and Opportunities | Dr. David Kohl, VIRTUAL
Economic shockwaves have become a fact of life in managing businesses and financials in the agricultural industry. Disruptors such as inflation of energy and other prices and increasing interest rates along with consumer and societal trends must be incorporated into the strategic game plan. This program is designed to look into the future, challenge the status quo, and see how macroeconomic trends impact everyday decisions. The business and financial practices that will place the odds of success in your favor despite extremes in volatility will be a focus. Dr. Kohl's decades of experience with his work as an academic, speaker, writer, business owner, and coach will provide wisdom and perspectives in an economic environment where uncertainty and opportunity coexist in the decade of the 2020s.

9:30- 9:45am      Beverage Break

9:45- 11:15am      Supply Chains & Global Trade Post-COVID Era & What's Driving Ag Now | Mike Pearson
Over the past forty years, industry around the world developed global supply chains capitalizing on far-flung resources, the proliferation of Free Trade Agreements and computerized record keeping and ordering systems that allowed for "just in time" manufacturing and warehousing. Those supply chains reduced overhead and brought in new customers; but the coronavirus pandemic changed the game. Between port closures and labor issues, those same global supply lines that were such an advantage have become a major disadvantage as delays pile up and costs surge. Industries around the world are looking at ways to bring their supply chains closer to home; but will that work for agriculture? The presentation will wrap up with a look ahead at the outlook for the farm markets, ag policy, and other global trends impacting these markets.
